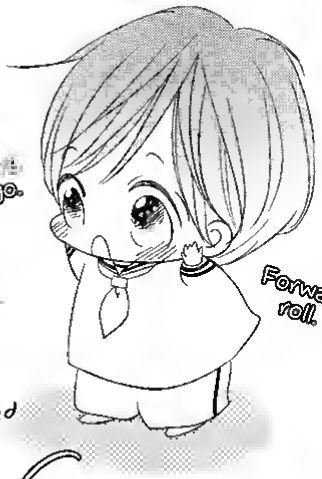
Afterword



Since I was allowed to draw more stories, I submitted three plots. After discussing with my editor, this plot was then chosen. Among those three, there were many topics that "I've never drawn before" (※like delinquent uke, cool seme, a little kid) so I was really nervous when I started drawing this.

(He can't do it but he still doesn't get the reason why he can't.)

I was really happy when I received so much comments and support from the readers during the time this story was being serialized.

I've come to love these three guys so much now, even though they made me super nervous when I first drew them.

For everyone who have read this, I am very thankful to all of you ♥

Thanks.

To everyone who have read this
To my editor, to everyone at Houbunsha, to my designer
To O-sama who helped me with the manuscript
And to everyone who helped in creating this book
To my friends and family
